Julie Hirst 9
"If my pen's liquor is to be from Eternity, it cannot be written dry":
Anne Bathurst, a Seventeenth-Century Visionary

Sylvia Brown 21
No Need for Translation: Quaker Women and Cross-Cultural Contacts
in the Seventeenth-Century World

Ann Little 43
Wabanaki and Ursuline Catholicism in Quebec and Acadia:
A Comparative Perspective

Marie Comisso 67
Grace in Nature: An Ecofeminist Approach to Aphra Behn's
"The Golden Age" and The History of the Nun

Katherine Quinsey 87
Freedom, Feminism, and the Convent in Restoration Britain

Humberto Garcia 113
"To strike out a New Path:" Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, Mary Astell, and the Politics of the Imperial Harem

Mita Choudhury 145
Female Mysticism and the Public Sphere in Eighteenth-Century France

Peggy Schaller 173
Reframing Religion: Beaumont's Enlightened Catholicism

Alicia Kerfoot 199
Prison and Sanctuary: Ann Radcliffe's Mutable Nunneries