Contents

Maps xiv
Preface xvi
Acknowledgements xvii
Glossary xx
Acronyms xxiii

1 Introduction 1
Faith in the law? Boundaries of proselytization 3
Negotiating Muslim-Christian conflict 6
Outline of the book 8

PART I
Context 11

2 Hostility to Christian activities: Origins and policies 13
Colonialism and Christian missions 13
Communism and conversions 17
Segregated religious instruction 20
The crime of insulting a religion 22
Church burnings and permits 24
Restrictions on missionary activities 25
Regulations on proselytization 27
Conclusion 31

3 Religious ideology, representation and reform 34
Constitutional compromise and the limits of religious freedom 35
The religious bureaucracy 40
Institutionalizing Islam: The Ministry of Religion 40
Establishing state-sanctioned ulama: The Indonesian Ulama Council 45
National Christian councils: Representing Christianity? 48
Losing faith in politics 50

Democracy, decentralization and religion 54
Regional regulations and radicalism in West Java 57
Conclusion 61

PART II
Legal case studies 67

4 Child protection and limits on proselytization 69
Indramayu Religious Education Case 69
Debating religious instruction 71
Advocating for religious education in Christian schools 72
Opposing state interference in faith-based schools 73
Reforming religious education: managing the risk of conversion 75
Innovation in religious education 77
Criminalizing deceptive proselytization of children 81
Court dynamics and religious authority 83
Local history of Christianity and radical Islam 84
Teachers and inter-religious relations 87
Rights of parents 88
Evidence of child conversion 89
Interpretation of Islamic hadith 92
Judicial review of the Child Protection Law 94
Conclusion 94

5 Conflict over sacred sites 99
Depok Church Permit Case 100
Opposition to churches 103
Debating the Joint Regulation 2006 105
Role of the Inter-religious Harmony Forum 106
Permit application process 108
Disputes over religious buildings 110
Claims of territoriality 110
'Illegal' buildings 112
Assumptions of unity 114
Local planning and urbanization 115
Ethnicity and foreignness 116
Economic disparity and corruption 118
Asserting legal rights in court 120
Channels for advocacy and complaint 121
Challenging government decisions pre-1998 123
Judicial review in the Administrative Court 124
Bogor Church Permit Case 124
Purwakarta Church Permit Case 126
Bekasi Church Permit Case 127

Judicial review in the Supreme Court 129
Conclusion 131

6 Insulting a religion 138
Tasikmalaya Apostasy Case 139
Historical trends in court cases 140
Characteristics of cases post-1998 144
Christians and converts to Christianity: Insulting Islam 148
Muslim converts to Christianity 148
Names of God: Allah, Tuhan or Yahweh 151
Evangelical Christians insulting Islam: the Malang Case 154
Intra-group disputes 156
Contextualizing Muslim-Christian dynamics 157
The Constitutional Court and the Blasphemy Law 161
Conclusion 163

7 Conclusion 168
Muslim–Christian tensions in context 168
Strategies of resistance 170
Judicialization of inter-religious disputes 171
Conclusion 174

Bibliography 175
Books and journal articles 175
Court documents 193
Laws and regulations 197
Newspaper articles 200
Presidential speeches 206
Reports and other documents 206

Index 209