SUMMARY OF CONTENTS

PREFACE TO FIFTH EDITION V

TABLE OF CASES XXIX

Chapter 1. A Prologue on Constitutional History 1
Section 1. The Founding Generation: The Constitution and the Bill of Rights, 1787–1791 3
Section 2. The Marshall Court's Nationalist Vision, 1801–1835 12
Section 3. States' Rights, Slavery, and The Taney Court, 1836–1864 17
Section 4. Reconstruction and the Ambiguous Triumph of Abolition, 1864–1896 20
Section 5. The Labor Movement, Progressivism, and Rights for Women and Blacks, 1896–1937 27
Section 6. The New Deal, the Court–Packing Controversy, and the Carolene Court, 1937–1953 35
Section 7. The Warren Court and the Triumph of the Civil Rights Movement, 1953–1969 42
Section 8. The Nixon–Reagan Court: Conservative Legal Process and Women's Rights, 1969–2001 48
Section 9. The Millennial Court 59
Appendix: Recent Changes 64

Chapter 2. An Introduction to Constitutional Decisionmaking 73
Section 1. Brown v. Board of Education: A Case Study 73
Section 2. The Supreme Court's Role in Our Political System 101
Section 3. Brown and Theories of Constitutional Decisionmaking 136

Chapter 3. The Constitution and Racial Discrimination 211
Section 1. Racial Classifications after Brown 215
Section 2. The State Action Doctrine as a Limit on the Judicial Power to Address Racial Discrimination 250
Section 3. The Affirmative Action Controversy: Benign Racial Classifications or Reverse Discrimination? 276

Chapter 4. Sex and Gender Discrimination and Other Equal Protection Concerns 367
Section 1. Minimal Equal Protection Scrutiny (The Rational–Basis Test) 368
Section 2. Sex- and Gender–Based Discrimination 382
Section 3. What Level of Scrutiny for Other "Suspicious" Classifications? 450

Chapter 5. Protecting Fundamental Rights 511
Section 1. Should Courts Ever Enforce Unenumerated Rights? 511
Section 2. Protecting Economic Liberty and Property 540
Section 3. Equal Protection and "Fundamental Interests" 569
Section 4. Fundamental Privacy Rights 609
Section 5. The "Right to Die" 692
Section 6. Procedural Due Process 703

Chapter 6. The First Amendment 727
Section 1. Free Speech and Competing Values 728
Section 2. Regulation of Political Expression 738
Section 3. Government Policing of Cultural Discourse and Intergroup Relations 777
Section 4. Speech with a Government Nexus 804
Section 5. Process–Based Protections for Speech 819
Section 6. Freedom of Association 828
Section 7. The Religion Clauses 837

Chapter 7. Federalism: Congressional Power and State Authority 879
Section 1. Enumerated Federal Power, Reserved State Authority: Introduction 879
Section 2. Congressional Power Under the Commerce Clause 904
Section 3. Congressional Authority to Promote Civil Rights 941
Section 4. Beyond the Commerce and Civil Rights Enforcement Powers 1015
Section 5. Intergovernmental Immunities and Congressional Power 1032
Section 6. Nationalist Limitations Upon State Regulatory Authority 1095

Chapter 8. Separation of Powers 1159
Section 1. Issues of Executive Aggrandizement (Imperial Presidency) 1174
Section 2. Issues of Legislative Overreaching 1233
Section 3. Separation of Powers, Due Process, and the War on Terror 1313

Chapter 9. Limits on the Judicial Power 1361
Section 1. The Political Question Doctrine 1362
Section 2. "Cases" or "Controversies" 1386
Section 3. Remedial Limitations 1425

Appendix 1. The Constitution of the United States 1441

Appendix 2. Constitutional Ratification Materials 1459

INDEX 1473