

Contents

List of Abbreviations	pag.	13
Introductory Remarks	»	17
1. Science and Religion in the Early Modernity. A Brief Historiographical Survey	»	17
2. Nicholas Steno's Scientific Method and Religious Faith	»	26
3. How Science Leads to Religion and Vice-versa in Steno's Thought	»	29
4. Bibliographia Stenoniana: A Brief Account	»	33
1. The Beginnings in Copenhagen (1659)	»	41
1. Steno's Early Cartesianism	»	41
2. Chemistry and Iatrochemistry	»	46
3. Moral Issues in the Chaos : Catholic Readings	»	52
4. Moral Issues in the Chaos : Frugality and Diakonia	»	63
5. Cartesianism, Iatrochemistry and Religious Troubles	»	65
2. The Dutch Permanence (1660-1664)	»	71
1. Harsh Disputes	»	78
2. Sensible and Public Scientific Experiences	»	85
3. Correct Experiments in Anatomy: Reason and Anatomical Preparations	»	87
4. Correct Anatomical Experiences and God's Providence	»	91
3. Steno's Relationship with Jan Swammerdam: Scientific and Religious Developments	»	95
1. Scientific Perspectives	»	97
Science Through Images	»	106
2. Religious Perspectives	»	110
Bourignon's God	»	113

3. An Impossible Encounter	pag.	117
4. Epilogue: The Science-Faith Relationship	»	127
4. French Period (1664-1667)	»	135
1. Steno's Encounter with Jansenism and Anti-Jansenism	»	136
2. Steno's Understanding of the Eucharist	»	142
3. The Issue of Human Freedom	»	148
5. Steno's Cartesianism and His Relationship with the «Deformer» of Descartes' Philosophy:
Baruch Spinoza	»	163
1. The Trouble of the Mind-Body Relationship	»	163
2. Criticism of Descartes Between Science and Religion	»	168
3. Spinoza as «Deformer» of Descartes	»	170
4. The Nature of Steno's Endorsing of the Cartesian Mechanism	»	174
6. Steno's Science After His Conversion and Ordination (1667-1677)	»	179
1. A Dane in Florence	»	180
2. Scientists go Hunting and Fishing	»	183
3. A Memorable Christi Dei Procession	»	185
4. Between Science and Faith	»	196
5. Science and Religious Mission	»	203
7. From Scientific Researches to Religious Controversies (1670-1678)	»	213
1. The Theological Disputes and the Value of the Magisterial Authority	»	214
2. The Method to be Applied in Controversies: The «Reasonableness» of Catholicism, and the Strength of «Experience»	»	220
3. Scientific Reasoning and Theological Argumentation	»	229
4. Conclusive Remarks	»	232
Appendix: Relevant Aspects of Steno's Conversion to Catholicism	»	234
Steno's Great Interest in Conversions	»	236
Others' Interest in Steno's Conversion	»	242
8. Nicholas Steno, «Spiritual Son of Florence»	»	249
1. Cosimo III Re-considered	»	249

2. Working Alongside the Prince: Steno as a State Councilor	pag.	254
3. Steno, Jansenism and the Dutch Catholic Church	»	257
4. The 17 th Century Florentine Formation of the Tridentine-like Clergy and Steno's Priestly Apprenticeship	»	261
5. Re-considering Steno's Relationship with the Grand Duke Cosimo III	»	267
What was the Inquirer of Truth Searching for?	»	271
Bibliography	»	289
Index of Names	»	321
Index of Tables	»	331