

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments .....	11
Note on Translations .....	15
Introduction .....	17
Chapter 1
Representing Italy in Nordic Literature: Theory, Methodology and History .....	29
1.1 Theoretical and Methodological Background .....	29
1.1.1 Representations of Italy: A Definition .....	30
1.1.2 Literary Genres: On the Structure of This Study .....	42
1.1.3 Constructing and Comparing: Towards a Methodological             Approach .....	47
1.1.4 Italy as a Textual Space .....	51
1.2 Historical Background: Italy, the Nordic Countries and Nordic Italy .....	57
1.2.1 One Italy: A Brief History of Italy's Unification and the             Idea of Italy .....	58
1.2.2 Four Nordic Countries: Denmark, Finland, Norway,             Sweden .....	62
1.2.3 Literary Movements in the Nordic Countries in the             Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries .....	64
1.2.4 Nordic Travellers in Italy: Gatherings and Societies from             the Beginning of the Nineteenth Century .....	71
1.3 Conclusion .....	73

Chapter 2

Italy in Verse: Discovering the Italian Peninsula through the Genre of the Poetic Travelogue .....	75
2.1 The Romantic Lyrical Tradition and the Origin of the Poetic Travelogue .....	75
2.2 Cygnæus' Ljus och skugga (1846; Light and Shadow) and the Idyllic Italy of the Poets .....	94
2.3 Updating the Romantic Myth of Italy in Snoilsky's Italienska bilder (1865; Italian Pictures) and Munch's "Fra Italien" (1867; From Italy) .....	108
2.4 The Italies of Unbridgeable Contrasts in Vogt's Fra Vaar til Høst (1894; From Spring to Autumn) and Claussen's Djævlerier (1904; Devilries) .....	122
2.5 Towards a Theory of Metarepresentation in Snoilsky's Italienska bilder (1865; Italian Pictures) and Hedberg's "Italienska bilder" (1910; Italian Pictures) .....	141
2.6 Conclusion .....	156

Chapter 3

Dramatic Italy: Examining the Construction of the Nordic Italians, their Spaces, History and Culture .....	161
3.1 Italy and Italians and the Nordic Dramatic Tradition .....	161
3.2 The Struggle for Freedom in Almqvist's Signora Luna (1835) and Lie's Faustina Strozzi (1875) .....	177
3.3 The Decadence of Italy in Ibsen's Catilina (1850; 1875) and Kivi's Canzio (1869) .....	204
3.4 Italy as the Symbol for Art in Strindberg's I Rom (1870; In Rome) and Drachmann's Renæssance (1894; Renaissance) .....	227
3.5 Italy and the Contrasted Marriages in Andersen's Brylluppet ved Como-Søen (1849; The Wedding on Lake Como) and Kinck's Brylluppet i Genua (1911; The Wedding in Genua) .....	248
3.6 Conclusion .....	273

Chapter 4

Novelistic Italy: The Italies of the Italians and the Italies of the Foreign Travellers .....	277
4.1 Italy in Nordic Novels and the Issue of Focalisation .....	277
4.2 The Italy of the Italians .....	290
4.2.1 Across Italy with an Italian "Guide" in Andersen's                 Improvisatoren (1835; The Improvisatore) .....	290
4.2.2 Tradition and Modernity in Lagerlöf's Antikrists                 mirakler (1897; The Miracles of the Antichrist) .....	312
4.3 Caught in the Middle: Italy and Sweden in Verner von Heidenstam's Hans Alienus (1892) .....	325
4.4 To Italy and Back .....	340
4.4.1 Italy's Healing Power in Wendela's Den fallna                 (1848; The Fallen) .....	340
4.4.2 The Mission of the True Traveller in Claussen's Valfart                 (1896; Pilgrimage) and Undset's Jenny (1911) .....	347
4.5 Conclusion .....	372
Conclusion .....	377
Bibliography .....	393
Primary Sources .....	393
Secondary Sources .....	394
Other Resources .....	421
Index of Personal Names .....	423
Index of Places .....	429