

Table of Contents

A Renewed Arc of Crisis in the MENA Region.....	7
Preface by Frederick Kempe, Giampiero Massolo

PART I - INTRODUCTION

Framework.....	15
Karim Mezran, Arturo Varvelli

PART II - CURRENT TRENDS: A CASE FOR DECENTRALIZATION?

1. From Fragmentation to Decentralization: An Overview.....	23
Ranj Alaaldin, Karim Mezran
2. Decentralization in Tunisia: Its Utility and Competing Visions for Implementation.....	37
Fadil Aliriza
3. Decentralization: The Last Resort for Libya?.....	49
Karim Mezran, Erin A. Neale
4. Decentralization in the Syrian Context.....	61
Faysal Itani, Emily Burchfield
5. Iraq: From Fragmentation to (De)Centralization?.....	75
Andrea Plebani

PART III - POLITICAL OPPOSITION IN THE ARAB WORLD

6. Islamist-Inspired Groups After the Arab Spring.....	89
Arturo Varvelli, Silvia Carenzi

7. Mainstream Institutionalization vs Disenfranchised Radicalization in Tunisia.....	109
Stefano M. Torelli
8. What Happened to Political Islam in Libya?.....	123
Mary Fitzgerald
9. Egyptian Islamists in the Labyrinth.....	135
Ashraf El Sherif
10. Political Islam in Jordan: A Plurality of Visions.....	153
Paolo Maggiolini

PART IV - ENERGY

11. The Implications of Natural Gas Potential in the MENA Region.....	173
Simone Tagliapietra
Acknowledgments.....	185
About the Authors.....	187