CONTENTS—SUMMARY

Series Editor’s Preface  \( \text{v} \)
Preface \( \text{vii} \)
Acknowledgments \( \text{ix} \)
Table of Cases \( \text{xxi} \)
Table of Legislation \( \text{xxxv} \)
List of Abbreviations \( \text{xxxix} \)

1. Introduction: Setting the Framework of the Discussion  \( 1 \)

I LEGAL BASES FOR THIRD-PARTY CLAIMS I: TRADITIONAL THEORIES OF CONTRACT AND CORPORATE LAW, TERMS IN ARBITRATION CLAUSES, RULES AND LAWS

2. Third-Party Claims Pursuant to Traditional Theories of Contract and Corporate Law  \( 27 \)

3. Further Legal Bases for Third-Party Claims: Terms in Arbitration Clauses, and Arbitration Rules and Laws  \( 97 \)

II LEGAL BASES FOR THIRD-PARTY CLAIMS II: IMPLIED CONSENT AND NON-SIGNATORY THEORIES

4. The Doctrine of Arbitral Estoppel  \( 131 \)

5. The Doctrine of Group of Companies  \( 149 \)

6. Critique on the ‘Non-Signatory Theories’ and the Contractual Approach to Third Parties  \( 175 \)

III A JURISDICTIONAL APPROACH TO THE DISCUSSION ON ARBITRATION AND THIRD PARTIES

7. Why and under what Conditions Tribunals Can Assume Jurisdiction over a Third-Party Claim  \( 201 \)

8. When a Tribunal Should Assume Jurisdiction over a Third-Party Claim and Other Select Issues Related to the Jurisdictional Approach  \( 221 \)

xi
IV ARBITRAL AWARDS AND THIRD PARTIES

9. The Legal Effects of Arbitral Awards 237
10. The Suggested Third-Party Effect of Arbitral Awards 245
11. Select Issues on the Effect of Arbitral Awards 261

CONCLUSION TO PART IV

12. Summary of Findings 273

Index 283