

	Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	Thinking the End of the World	1
Chapter 1	Last One Out, Please Turn Out the Lights On the Beach and The Road	17
Chapter 2	“ . . . solitary, poor, nasty, brutish and short” Hobbes and Lucifer’s Hammer, the Classic Postapocalyptic Text	43
Chapter 3	“Industrious and Rational” John Locke and Alas, Babylon: The Rational Life Postapocalypse	67
Chapter 4	“Man is born free; and everywhere is in chains” Rousseau and Malevil: The Responsibilities of Civil Life	93
Chapter 5	“Maybe Effort Counted” John Rawls and Thought Experiments	117
Chapter 6	“To take root among the stars” Octavia Butler’s Parable of the Sower and Rethinking the Social Contract	135

Chapter 7	“We can choose”	161
	Octavia Butler’s Parable of the Talents and the Meaning of Security
	Epilogue	187
	Bibliography	191
	Index	195
	About the Author	199