

1. ECONOMIC GROWTH, LABOUR AND URBANIZATION: AN OVERVIEW	1
1.1. The importance of the labour market	1
1.2. Growth, wages, employment and migration	4
2. REGIONAL AND GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES ON DEVELOPMENT, LABOUR AND URBANIZATION	7
2.1. Regional comparisons of development experience	7
2.1.1. NIEs (Singapore, Hong Kong, Taiwan, South Korea)	10
2.1.3. China	20
2.1.4. India	27
2.2. Lessons from comparative analysis	28
2.3. Contemporary regional and global trends	31
2.3.1. The rise of "Chindia" ¹³	31
2.3.2. Implications of Chindia for trade and employment	32
2.3.3. Coping with global stress: lessons from Indonesia?	33
3. VIETNAM'S EXPERIENCE AND COMPARISON WITH NEIGHBOURING COUNTRIES	35
3.1. Economic growth, structural change, poverty and inequality	35
3.2. Labour market performance	38
3.3. Urbanization	48
3.4. An assessment	51
3.5. Taking stock and looking forward: labour policy and institutional issues	52
3.5.1. Framework	52
3.5.2. Labour market policies	55
4. GROWTH, MOBILITY AND ECONOMIC WELFARE: POLICY SIMULATIONS	58
4.1. The simulation model	58
4.2. Policy experiments	60
4.3. Results	60
4.4. Discussion	63
5. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR LABOUR AND URBANIZATION POLICIES TO 2020	65
5.1. Medium-term strategy: support employment growth	65
5.2. Long-term strategy: build skills and cities	68
5.3. Summary	70