

Table of Contents

Prologue John A.E. Vervaele	1
Section 1: Dutch Criminal Justice
Terrorism Causing a Shifting Responsibility in Criminal Pre-trial Investigation: from Repression to Prevention Marianne F.H. Hirsch Ballin	9
Shifting Responsibilities: Duties and Responsibilities of the Criminal Defence Lawyer Jill E.B. Coster van Voorhout	31
Shifting Responsibilities between Prosecution Service and Police in Cases of Discrimination: Law, Policy and Practice Chana Grijsen	51
Shifting Responsibilities and the Flexibility of Criminal Justice Theo A. de Roos	71
Section 2: Europe and Criminal Justice
Three Shifts of Responsibilities in the EU CTF Regime, their Risks and the Need for a Radical and Comprehensive Review Réno Pijnen	83
The Need to Identify a General Part of Criminal Law for the EU Jeroen Blomsma	111
Criminalizing Speech in the Context of Terrorism: Human Rights and State Responsibilities Marloes van Noorloos	127

Section 3: International Criminal Justice

What Makes Valid Law? Shifting Modes of Responsibility in International Criminal Law Cassandra Steer	143
Reconciling the Prosecutor's Duty to Search for Truth with the Principle of Equality of Arms at the ICC Masha I. Fedorova	165
Turbulence in International Criminal Law Evert F. Stamhuis	193
Epilogue John A.E. Vervaele	213
Contributors	229