Part 1: The Path Travelled

Chapter 1: Clearing the Fields: Background and Context of Women’s Struggle

Kenya Women’s Movement: a brief background 13
United Nations Women’s Decade and the Kenya Women’s Movement 15
Women’s focus since 1992 16
Why 1992 is significant 17
The National Women’s Convention, 1992 19
Hon. Phoebe Asiyo motion, 1997 20
The beginning of a national women’s political movement 25
Formation of the Affirmative Action Steering Committee 26
Introducing Affirmative Action Bill 2000 28

Chapter 2: Negotiating for Space in the Constitutional Review Process

Women at the negotiation process 32
Constitutional review stakeholders consultation at Bomas (May 11th 1998) 32
Women and the Constitution Review Law 1998/1999 34
The battle for control of the selection of women commissioners 37
Women’s nominations of the five women commissioners (1999) 39
Mrs Zipporah Kittony’s troubles with KANU 41
Women’s day in court over the nomination of women commissioners 42
Women’s shuttle diplomacy and the stalled review process 43
Women’s consultations with political party leaders 43
Women’s consultations with religious leaders 44
Women and the people driven process 45
Chapter 3: The National Constitutional Conference

Women at the National Constitutional Conference 57
Women’s efforts to safeguard their gains in 2004/2005 59
The multi-sectoral forum – 2006 63
The famous 50 Seats Bill 64
Women’s march for the 50 seats 66
Women’s one million signatures for 50 seats 67
Women petition parliament 67
The 2010 harmonised draft and the referendum 68
Pictorial I 71

Part 2: Women’s Voices

Chapter 4: Women’s Voices from the Provinces

Introduction 91
How women spoke during the public hearings 94
Section 1: Voices from Nyanza Province 100
Section 2: Voices from Western Province 112
Section 3: Voices from North Eastern Province 119
Section 4: Voices from Nairobi Province 130
Section 5: Voices from Rift Valley Province 138
Section 6: Voices from Eastern Province 160
Section 7: Voices from Central Province 169
Section 8: Voices from Coast Province 180

Chapter 5: Women’s Organisations and Women in Academia

Introduction 195
Voices from national women’s organisations 195
Voices from women in academia 205
Pictorial II 213
Part 3: Negotiating the Double Covenant

Introduction
Preparation of the CKRC draft and national constitutional conference
Validating the process
Reconvening of the Bomas Constitutional Conference
Women delegates
Women's lobbying and negotiating strategies at Bomas
Women's focus on critical committees at the National Constitutional Conference
Women and representation at the National Constitutional Conference
Women in the Committee on Representation of the People
Devolution of power, the most contested concept and structures
Women's negotiations in the Devolution Committee
In pursuit of the Gender Commission
Remaining accountable to women and monitoring progress at the Bomas Conference
Keeping their eyes on the goal
The basket of fruits from the Bomas negotiations

Chapter 7: 2005 Referendum: A Dream Deferred

Introduction
On referendum:
Women's response to the referendum results

Chapter 8: The First Season of Harvest

Introduction
Negotiating the contested issues and the 2010 Constitution
Women's presentation to the Committee of Experts
The 2010 referendum
2011: Remaining vigilant even as we celebrate the first season of harvest
Pictorial III
Part 4: Reflections

Chapter 9: Women, Ethnicity and Constitution Making

Ethnicity
Ethnicity and the 2005 referendum
Women, ethnicity and the debate on devolution of powers
Ethnicity and regions
Women, power and ethnicity
Women, culture, ideology and ethnicity
Myth, myth making and ideology
Ethnicity and women's representation
Ethnicity and voting at the 2005 referendum
Stereotyping women and ethnic ideology
Creating a new ideology and new institutions

Chapter 10: Women’s Strategic Choices

Introduction
Affirmative action: the critical unifying factor
Why the struggle for affirmative action
Working with political parties.

Chapter 11: Emerging from the Shadows

Introduction
Naming the problems of women

Chapter 12: Conclusion

Part 5: Appendices

Appendix I: List of women mentioned in this book
Appendix II: List of women delegates at Bomas
Appendix III: CKRC Commissioners
Appendix IV: Committee of Experts Commissioner (CoE)
Appendix V: List of constituencies referred to in the analysis
Appendix VI: Memorandum from the women of Kenya on the PSC Draft Constitution of Kenya (2010)
Appendix VII: Petition
Appendix VIII: Amendment Bill, 2011

Bibliography

Index