Part 1: From Ancient Times until 1500

1 Geology and Early Men

2 Early Foreign Contacts, 500 BC to AD 300
Early Indian Influences – Chinese Influences – Were the Greeks and Romans in Phuket or the Peninsula?

3 Tradewinds and Portages, 2000 BC to AD 1700
Ancient Trade – The Trans-Peninsular Portage Routes – Some Early European Accounts of Trans-Peninsular Crossings – Ancient Trade Products from Phuket and the Surrounding Region

4 The Rise of Kingdoms, AD 1 to 800
Funan: The First Great Southeast Asian Empire – Tun Sun – Pan Pan – Tambralingua – Langkasuka – Kedah – Sinbad the Sailor’s Stomping Ground?

5 Srivijaya and its Rivals, AD 700 to 1300
The Mysterious Srivijayan Empire – Challenges to Srivijayan Dominance, 900-1300 – The Demise of the Peninsular Empires of Pagan and Srivijaya

6 The Kingdom of Tambralinga and Chandrabhanu, 1200 to 1250
Chandrabhanu’s Sri Lankan Invasions – Tambralinga Disappears

7 The Coming of the Thais and Islam, AD 600 to 1400

Part 2: The Fabric of Island Life, 1400 to 1900

8 The Social Fabric, 1400 to 1900
Part 3: The 16th Century

9 Spices, Zealots and Adventurers, 1450 to 1600
   The Spice Trade – The Portuguese Head East – Farangs Arrive on the Peninsula
   –The Portuguese Capture Malacca – The Portuguese Reach Siam – The Portuguese in the Peninsula and Phuket – Portuguese Interbreeding – Bigots, Chilies and Tobacco

10 The Amazing Adventures of Mr. Pinto, 1540 to 1550
   Colorful Tales from a 16th Century Portuguese Adventurer

11 The Pugnacious Protestants, 1580 to 1640

Part 4: The 17th Century

12 “Easy, Brutish and Short”, 1600 to 1700

13 “Yea We Are Deadly Hated by All”, 1640 to 1700
   The Dutch Claim Phuket Island and Attempt to Control its Trade – Local Resistance to the Dutch Naval Blockade – Corruption and Drunkenness – King Narai’s Conflict with the Dutch – Blockade Running and Dutch Troubles in Phuket – The 1675 Battle of Patong – Diminishing Dutch Dominion

14 The Massacre of the Cholas, 1676 to 1679
   Phuket under Indian Governorship – The Locals Revolt and Murder the Indians

15 The Failed French Attempts to Colonize Phuket, 1670 to 1688
Part 5: The 18th Century

16 The “Ban Plu Luang” Period, 1688 to 1766

17 Pirates and Slavery, 1600 to 1850

18 The Dauntless Mr. Sin, 1763 to 1785

19 The Heroine Sisters, 1780 to 1788

20 The Schemes of Light and Scott, 1770 to 1794
Introduction – Francis Light and James Scott – The EIC Searches for a Suitable Eastern Base – Francis Light in Phuket – The Plot to Take Phuket and Make it a British Station – The Deed Is Done – Spanners in the Works – Why Penang Was Colonized and not Phuket – Epilogue

Part 6: The 19th Century

21 Kathu’s New Treasure, 1790 to 1810
Phuket Town Develops as Tin Mining Starts in Kathu – Bangkok Gets Closer: A New Road across the Peninsula

22 The Burmese Conquest of Phuket, 1809 to 1811

23 Destruction and Atrocities, 1812 to 1821
Phuket Destroyed and Depopulated – The Brutal Kedah War of 1821
24 New Neighbors, 1818 to 1825
British Power Ascendant – The First Anglo-Burmese War – Siam and Britain
Become New Neighbors – John Crawfurd’s Vexing Mission

25 Lieutenant Low’s Failed Mission, 1824
A British Gunboat Blockades Trang – Lt. Low’s Mission – Lt. Low in Phuket
and Phang Nga – Old Phang Nga

26 Righteous Burney, 1825
Siamese Slave Raids during the Anglo-Burmese War – The EIC Takes Tenasserim:
Lt. Burney’s Mission to Siam – Phuket’s War Captives – Burney in Bangkok
– An Exchange of Captives

27 The Tan Clan, 1822 to the Present Day
Phuket Is Freed of Debilitating Fear and Repopulated – Chinese Immigration
Increases – Canny Mr. Tan – The Tan Clan and other Towkays in Phuket

28 Dangerous Ladies and Dissension, 1831 to 1842
Nai Mi Discovers Phuket’s Dangerous Women – More Rebellions in the South
– The End of Nakorn Sri Thammarat’s Regional Dominance

29 Bending with the Wind, 1850 to 1910
British and American Pressure: Reform or Be Colonized – King Mongkut’s Era
King Chulalongkorn’s Reforms, 1868-1910

30 The Boundary Question, 1860 to 1910
The Terengganu Affair: British Gunboat Diplomacy – The Crocodile and the Whale –French Encroachment in Laos – French Gunboats in Bangkok – The Anglo-French Border Agreement for Siam – British Territorial Expansion in the Peninsula – The Other Great Powers in the Peninsula – Britain’s Final Peninsular
Land Grab

31 Inhuman Industry and Breaking Heads, 1800 to 1910
Chinese Emigrants in the Peninsula and Phuket – The Boom Period in Chinese of Phuket Town and Get Ho (Kathu) – The Later 19th Century Peninsular Tin
Market Boom – “Province Eating” Governors –The Tax Farm Wars – The “Angyee”
Chinese Riots of 1876 – Life in Phuket Town in the Late 19th Century
Part 7: The 20th Century

32 The Efficacious Khaws, 1820-1914

33 The Golden Years, 1914 to 1942

34 The Seeds from Mr. Wickham’s Shoes, 1895 to 2000
A Brief History of Rubber – Rubber Farming in Southern Siam

35 From Siam to Thailand, 1930 to 1942

36 “The Losing Side Will Be Our Enemy”, 1935 to 1943
Japan and Thailand Become Bedfellows – The Thai/Indochina War of 1941 – Duplicitous Phibun – Phuket Prepares for War

37 Saved by the Bombs, 1942 to 1945

38 Tin to Tourism, 1945 to 2010