PART I

Introductory Discussions

Chapter 1: The Economy of Affection and the Moral Economy in Comparative Perspective
           Goran Hyden .................................................................5

Chapter 2: African Peasants and Moral Economy in Historical Perspective
           Kazuhiko Sugimura ........................................................28

Chapter 3: The End of the Moral Economy? Aspects of the Moral Economy of the Peasants in Tanzania
           Sam Maghimbi ...............................................................45

Chapter 4: Conditions of the “Moral Economy” Function in Southeast Asian Rural Socio-Economy
           Atsushi Kitahara ............................................................58

PART II

Diverging Paths to Prosperity and Poverty: Cross-regional Comparisons between Asia and Africa

Chapter 5: From Agrarian Moral Economy to Plural Civil Society in Southeast Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa
           David Henley and Deborah Fahy Bryceson .......................73
Chapter 6: Africa and Southeast Asia: From the Viewpoint of Comparative Study of Civilization
Tadasu Tsuruta ................................................................. 91

Chapter 7: Framework and Ethics of Rice Communities in Japan
Koichi Ikegami ................................................................. 106

Chapter 8: Geo-Historical Environment Analysis of Economy: How Can We Understand Different Processes of Modernization in the Non-Western World?
Yoshihito Shimada ........................................................... 123

PART III

Moral Economy in Rural Thailand

Fumihiko Tsumura ........................................................... 137

Chapter 10: Community Economy Networking of Chiang Mai Plain
Pornpilai Lertvicha ............................................................ 154

Chapter 11: Changes in the Village Economy in Thailand's Central Region During the Era of Industrialization
Porphant Ouyyanont ......................................................... 162

PART IV

Contemporary Forms of African Moral Economy and their Relevance to Development

Chapter 12: Moral Economy, Cash Economy, and Gender: The Case of Rutamba Villages, Lindi Region, Southeast Tanzania
Kumiko Sakamoto ............................................................ 185
Chapter 13: Moral Economy on Rural Development Activities of Peasant Organization in the Lower Senegal River Valley
Ryuta Takahashi ......................................................................................................................... 205

Chapter 14: A Study of Inter-Firm Linkages and SMEs’ Development in Burkina Faso: Social Embeddness and Networks among Construction-Related Enterprises
Tomomi Tokuori ......................................................................................................................... 215

Chapter 15: The Social Space of Street Trading: With Special Reference to the Reasons for the Riot of Street Traders in Tanzania
Sayaka Ogawa ............................................................................................................................ 228

Chapter 16: Turning Wealth into Cash or Gift? Negotiating Morality in Highland Ethiopia
Keiichiro Matsumura .................................................................................................................. 246

Chapter 17: Cooperative Farming Labor among the Malo of Southwestern Ethiopia: Forms, Roles and Changes
Takeshi Fujimoto .......................................................................................................................... 252

Chapter 18: Seafood Preservation and Economic Strategy of the Dried Fish Trade in Kilwa Kisiwani, Southern Swahili Coast, Tanzania
Ryo Nakamura ............................................................................................................................. 273

Chapter 19: Navigating Urban-Rural Waters: Labour Migration, Affection and the Remaking of Lake Malawi Fishery
Setsuko Nakayama ..................................................................................................................... 292
PART V

Theories of Moral Economy

Chapter 20: From Subsistence Wealth to Endogenous Development/ Gross National Happiness/Economie sociale et solidaire: The Shift of Counter Paradigms under Globalization

Jun Nishikawa ................................................................. 325

Chapter 21: Moral Economy and Failures in Economic Development

A. Robert Frouville .......................................................... 331

Chapter 22: The Nature of a Partnership Economy: Communicative Transactions and Social Relations of Exchange

Michel Renault ............................................................... 342