CHAPTER ONE .......................................................... 1
Matrix, Metamorphosis, and the Readymade in Union Street, Liza’s England and Another World
Maria Holmgren Troy

CHAPTER TWO .......................................................... 13
“To see and to know”: Ethics and Aesthetics in Double Vision and Life Class
John Brannigan

CHAPTER THREE ....................................................... 25
Her Story: Liza’s England (The Century’s Daughter)
Jessica Gildersleeve

CHAPTER FOUR ......................................................... 43
“Where unknown, there place monsters”: Reading Class Conflict and Sexual Anxiety in the Regeneration Trilogy
Pat Wheeler

CHAPTER FIVE .......................................................... 63
“It happened once...It can happen again. Take care”: Gothic Topographies in Pat Barker’s Another World
Judith Seaboyer
CHAPTER SIX
Pathologized Masculinity in Pat Barker's *Double Vision:
Stephen Sharkey's Monstrous Others*
Marie-Luise Kohlke

CHAPTER SEVEN
Fire and Water in Border Crossing: Testimony as Contagion and Cure
Mary Trabucco

CHAPTER EIGHT
The Fictional Excavation of the Future in Double Vision
Nick Hubble

CHAPTER NINE
Forming a New Political Aesthetic: The Enabling Body in Pat Barker's Life Class
Simon Avery