Contents Summary

Contents ........................................................................................................... xi
The Contributors ............................................................................................ xxxiii
Abbreviations .................................................................................................... xliii

Part I: Fundamental Issues ............................................................................... 1
Chapter 1 – Mediation: Comparison of Laws, Regulatory Models, Fundamental Issues
Klaus J. Hopt and Felix Steffek ........................................................................ 3

Chapter 2 – Harmonisation and Diversity in the Private International Law of Mediation: The Rhythms of Regulatory Reform
Nadja Alexander .................................................................................................. 131

Chapter 3 – Privatising Civil Justice and the Day in Court
Rainer Kulms ..................................................................................................... 205

Part II: Mediation in the European Union ..................................................... 245
Chapter 4 – Mediation in Austria: The European Pioneer in Mediation Law and Practice
Markus Roth and David Gherdane .................................................................... 247

Chapter 5 – Mediation in Bulgaria: Legal Regime, EU Harmonisation and Practical Experience
Evgeni Georgiev and Christa Jessel-Holst ....................................................... 333

Chapter 6 – Mediation in England and Wales:
Regulation and Practice
Jens M. Scherpe and Bevan Marten ................................................................ 365

Chapter 7 – Mediation in France: Legal Framework and Practical Experiences
Katrin Deckert ................................................................................................. 455
Contents

Chapter 8 – Mediation in Germany: The German Mediation Act—Alternative Dispute Resolution at the Crossroads
Peter Tochtermann .............................................................. 521

Chapter 9 – Mediation in Greece: A Contemporary Procedural Approach to Resolving Disputes
Nikolaos K. Klamaris and Calliope G. Chronopoulou ........................................... 585

Chapter 10 – Mediation in Hungary: Legal Foundations, Recent Reforms, EU Convergence
Christa Jessel-Holst ................................................................. 605

Chapter 11 – Mediation in Ireland: Growing Importance of ADR Driven by Budgetary Restraints and Docket Congestion—A Cheap and Easy Way Out?
Reinhard Ellger ................................................................. 629

Chapter 12 – Mediation in Italy: Alternative Dispute Resolution for All
Giuseppe De Palo and Lauren Keller .................................................. 667

Chapter 13 – Mediation in the Netherlands: Between State Promotion and Private Regulation
Liane Schmiedel ................................................................. 697

Chapter 14 – Mediation in Poland: Time for a Quiet Revolution?
Rafal Morek and Lukasz Rozdeiczer .................................................. 775

Chapter 15 – Mediation in Portugal: Growing Up in a Sheltered Home
Jan Peter Schmidt ................................................................. 809

Chapter 16 – Mediation in Spain: Dealing with Its First National Regulation
María Luisa Villamarin López ...................................................... 839

Part III: Mediation in the Wider World .................................................... 867

Chapter 17 – Mediation in Australia: Development and Problems
Ulrich Magnus ................................................................. 869

Chapter 18 – Mediation in Australia: Development and Problems
Reinhard Ellger ................................................................. 869

Chapter 19 – Mediation in Austria
Knut B. Pissler .................................................................

Chapter 20 – Mediation in Belgium and Practice of Out-of-Court Settlement
Harald Baum .................................................................

Chapter 21 – Mediation in Belgium
Heyo Berg .................................................................

Chapter 22 – Mediation in Denmark
Anneken Kari Sperr .................................................................

Chapter 23 – Mediation in Denmark
Dmitry Davydenko .................................................................

Chapter 24 – Mediation in Finland: Conciliation-oriented Treaties
Christoph Kumpan and Christoph Kumpan .................................................. 839

Chapter 25 – Mediation in Finland: Between Legalism and Social Policy
Rainer Kulms .................................................................

Index .................................................................
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chapter 18 – Mediation in Canada: One Goal—Different Approaches to Mediation in a State with Federal and Provincial Jurisdictions</th>
<th>Reinhard Ellger</th>
<th>909</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 19 – Mediation in China: Threat to the Rule of Law?</td>
<td>Knut B. Pissler</td>
<td>959</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 20 – Mediation in Japan: Development, Forms, Regulation and Practice of Out-of-Court Dispute Resolution</td>
<td>Harald Baum</td>
<td>1011</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 21 – Mediation in New Zealand: Widely Accepted and Successful</td>
<td>Heyo Berg</td>
<td>1095</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 22 – Mediation in Norway: ‘Faster, Cheaper and more Friendly’</td>
<td>Anneken Kari Sperr</td>
<td>1137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 23 – Mediation in Russia: Regulation and Practice</td>
<td>Dmitry Davydenko</td>
<td>1165</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 25 – Mediation in the USA: Alternative Dispute Resolution between Legalism and Self-Determination</td>
<td>Rainer Kulms</td>
<td>1245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index</td>
<td></td>
<td>1329</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chapter 18 – Mediation in Canada: One Goal—Different Approaches to Mediation in a State with Federal and Provincial Jurisdictions</th>
<th>Reinhard Ellger</th>
<th>909</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 19 – Mediation in China: Threat to the Rule of Law?</td>
<td>Knut B. Pissler</td>
<td>959</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 20 – Mediation in Japan: Development, Forms, Regulation and Practice of Out-of-Court Dispute Resolution</td>
<td>Harald Baum</td>
<td>1011</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 21 – Mediation in New Zealand: Widely Accepted and Successful</td>
<td>Heyo Berg</td>
<td>1095</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 22 – Mediation in Norway: ‘Faster, Cheaper and more Friendly’</td>
<td>Anneken Kari Sperr</td>
<td>1137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 23 – Mediation in Russia: Regulation and Practice</td>
<td>Dmitry Davydenko</td>
<td>1165</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 25 – Mediation in the USA: Alternative Dispute Resolution between Legalism and Self-Determination</td>
<td>Rainer Kulms</td>
<td>1245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index</td>
<td></td>
<td>1329</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>