Contents

- Foreword .................................................. v
- Preface ................................................... vii
- Table of Statutes .......................................... xix
- Table of Statutory Instruments .......................... xxii
- Table of European Legislation ........................... xxvii
- Table of Cases .............................................. xxviii

1 Mediation and civil justice: the politics of encouraging settlement
   1.1 Settlement as a proper concern for civil justice ........ 1
   1.2 The relationship between civil courts and settlement in the US 4
   1.3 Civil courts and settlement in England and Wales .......... 6
   1.4 Settlement as an inevitable concern for civil justice ....... 13

2 The status of mediation in terms of the law
   2.1 Defining mediation .................................. 19
   2.2 Mediation contrasted with other ADR processes ............ 28
   2.3 The formalities associated with the mediation process ....... 29
   2.4 The content and status of a mediation agreement .......... 29
   2.5 Formalities relating to mediation agreements ............... 31
   2.6 A 'good faith' commitment by the parties to seek settlement 32
   2.7 Authority to settle .................................. 33
      Insured parties ..................................... 34
      Groups of companies and partnerships ....................... 35
      Public bodies ...................................... 35
      Parties under legal incapacity .......................... 35
   2.8 Imposing formalities on settlement terms .................. 36
   2.9 The status of mediated settlements ....................... 37

3 Mediators and the law
   3.1 The legal status of mediators .......................... 41
      Judges .......................................... 42
      Magistrates ................................... 43
      Arbitrators .................................... 43
      Adjudicators of building and allied disputes ............... 43
      Evaluators in early neutral evaluation .................... 43

xiii
Contents

Exceptions to non-admissibility of ‘without prejudice’
communication 177
To whom does ‘without prejudice’ privilege belong? 181
Settlement meetings and confidentiality 182
9.3 The special characteristics of mediation 183
9.4 Does a unique ‘mediation privilege’ exist? 183
9.5 Confidentiality created by the mediation agreement 185
9.6 Practical considerations for mediation confidentiality 193
9.7 Confidentiality and other third party investigations 195
9.8 Confidentiality, privilege and the Uniform Mediation Act in the US 195
9.9 Privilege and confidentiality in Australia 199
9.10 Conclusions and problems 202

10 The impact of European law on mediation in England and Wales
10.1 The European Convention on Human Rights 203
10.2 The EU Mediation Directive 210
10.3 Implementation of the EU Mediation Directive in England and Wales
  Article 6: Enforcement of mediated settlements 215
  Article 8: suspension of limitation periods 216
  Article 7: confidentiality and mediator compellability 219
10.4 The EU Code of Conduct for Mediators 226

11 Mediation and litigation costs
11.1 Costs: some definitions 230
11.2 The basis for litigation costs awards under the CPR 232
11.3 Transferring the potential costs burden in any case: CPR
  Part 36 234
11.4 Qualified one way costs shifting in injury claims 238
11.5 The impact of Part 36 and QOCS on mediations 241
11.6 The status of the ‘costs of the mediation’ and ‘mediation fees’
  242
11.7 Costs of pre-issue and post-issue mediations 244
11.8 Practical considerations for mediators on costs issues 245

12 Litigation funding and mediation
12.1 Normal funding 249
12.2 Legal Aid funding 251
12.3 Legal expenses insurance (‘Before the event’ or BTE) 252
12.4 Conditional fee agreements (CFAs) and ‘After the event’
  (ATE) insurance 253
12.5 Damages-based agreements and contingency fee funding 257
12.6 Third party funding 258
12.7 Wasted costs orders 258

13 The mediation
13.1 Rule changes 260
13.2 The mediation
13.3 The mediation
13.4 The mediation
13.5 The mediation
13.6 Some new
13.7 Mediation
13.8 Reforms

Appendices
1 CEDR
2 CEDR
3 CEDR
4 CEDR
5 CEDR
6 Recommendations
7 List of us

Index
| Contents |
|-----------------|--------------|
| 12.8 Funding problems arising in mediations | 259 |
| 13 The Jackson reforms and the future of mediation | 261 |
| 13.1 Rule changes to require use of mediation | 263 |
| 13.2 The main changes reviewed | 265 |
| 13.3 The continuing place of ADR and mediation in civil justice | 266 |
| 13.4 The nature of pre-action obligations to consider mediation | 267 |
| 13.5 The overall outcome | 268 |
| 13.6 Some new ways of encouraging settlement | 270 |
| 13.7 Mandatory mediation? | 275 |
| 13.8 Reforms to the legal structure underpinning mediation |  |
| Appendices | |
| 1 CEDR Model Mediation Agreement, 13th Edition | 279 |
| 2 CEDR Mediation Model Procedure, 12th Edition | 283 |
| 3 CEDR Model Settlement Agreement | 291 |
| 4 CEDR Model Tomlin Order | 295 |
| 5 CEDR Solve Code of Conduct for Third Party Neutrals, April 2008 | 297 |
| 6 Recommended further reading | 301 |
| 7 List of useful websites | 303 |
| Index | 305 |