

Table of Contents

About the Author	vii
Foreword	xiii
Preface	xv
List of Abbreviations	xvii
List of Figures	xix
List of Tables	xxi
Introduction	1
CHAPTER 1
The Key to Understanding Transfer Pricing: The Arm's Length Principle	3
1.1 Introduction	3
1.2 Possible Methods for Sharing the Profits of Multinational Enterprises: Formulary Apportionment or the Arm's Length Principle?	7
1.2.1 The Objectives of a Method for Sharing the Profits of Multinational Enterprises	7
1.2.2 Formulary Apportionment	9
1.2.3 The Arm's Length Principle	12
1.3 The Arm's Length Principle in Theory	16
1.4 The Arm's Length Principle in Practice	21
1.4.1 The Functional Analysis	21
1.4.2 The Comparability Analysis	24
1.5 The Tax Arbitrage Resulting from Intercompany Pricing: The Distinction between Acceptable and Unacceptable Tax Planning	29
1.6 The OECD Guidelines	31
1.7 Transfer Pricing Documentation	35

CHAPTER 2

The Transfer Pricing Methods Recognised by the OECD Guidelines	37
2.1 Introduction	37
2.2 Traditional Transaction Methods	39
2.2.1 The CUP Method	39
2.2.2 The Resale Price Method	41
2.2.3 The Cost Plus Method	44
2.3 Transactional Profit Methods	47
2.3.1 The Transactional Net Margin Method	48
2.3.2 The Transactional Profit Split Method	56
2.4 The Combined Use of Several Transfer Pricing Methods	60

CHAPTER 3

Transfer Pricing Models	63
3.1 Introduction	63
3.2 Standardised Transfer Pricing Models	64
3.3 Intercompany Transactions Involving Intangible Property	66
3.4 Common Types of Intercompany Transactions and Transfer Pricing Models	70
3.4.1 Research and Development	70
3.4.2 Manufacturing	73
3.4.3 Distribution	78
3.4.4 Intercompany Services	81
3.4.5 Financial Transactions	86
3.4.6 Cost Contribution Arrangements	90
3.4.7 The Centralised Entrepreneur Model	93

CHAPTER 4

Cross-Border Business Restructurings	101
4.1 Introduction	101
4.2 Frequent Types of Cross-Border Business Restructurings	104
4.3 Should a Cross-Border Business Restructuring Give Rise to the Payment of Compensation between the Restructured Entities?	108
4.3.1 Has Something of Value Been Transferred from One Company to Another Company?	109
4.3.2 Does the Business Restructuring Involve the Termination or the Substantial Renegotiation of Existing Arrangements?	114

CHAPTER 5

The Substance Requirement from a Transfer Pricing Perspective	115
5.1 The Purpose of the Substance Requirement	115
5.2 The Determination of Whether or Not an Intercompany Transaction Is Supported by Sufficient Substance	118
5.2.1 Introduction	118
5.2.2 The Substance Requirement Applied to Functions	119

5.2.3	The Substance Requirement Applied to Risks	120
5.2.4	The Substance Requirement Applied to Assets	122
5.3	The Substance Requirement Applied to Cross-Border Business Restructurings	123
CHAPTER 6
	The Attribution of Profits to Permanent Establishments	125
6.1	Introduction: What Is a Permanent Establishment?	125
6.2	Background on the Attribution of Profits to Permanent Establishments and Former Principles Recommended by the OECD	127
6.3	The Authorised OECD Approach	130
6.3.1	The Applicability of the Authorised OECD Approach	130
6.3.2	Rationale of the Authorised OECD Approach	132
6.3.3	The Functional and Factual Analysis	134
6.3.3.1	Introduction	134
6.3.3.2	Analysis of the Functions Attributable to a Permanent Establishment	135
6.3.3.3	Analysis of the Risks Attributable to a Permanent Establishment	135
6.3.3.4	Analysis of the Assets Attributable to a Permanent Establishment	136
6.3.3.5	Analysis of the Rights and Obligations Arising from Transactions with Separate Enterprises That Are Attributable to a Permanent Establishment	137
6.3.3.6	Analysis of the Funding Attributable to a Permanent Establishment	138
6.3.4	The Comparability Analysis	141
CHAPTER 7
	The Prevention and the Resolution of Transfer Pricing Disputes	143
7.1	Introduction	143
7.2	Advance Pricing Arrangements	147
7.2.1	The Purpose of Advance Pricing Arrangements	147
7.2.2	The Different Types of Advance Pricing Arrangements	149
7.2.3	The Procedure to Apply for an Advance Pricing Arrangement	152
7.3	Mutual Agreement Procedures	154
7.3.1	The Purpose of a Mutual Agreement Procedure	155
7.3.2	The Different Steps of a Mutual Agreement Procedure	156
7.4	Arbitration	160
7.4.1	Introduction	160
7.4.2	Arbitration in Tax Treaties	161
7.4.3	The EU Arbitration Convention	164

Table of Contents

Bibliography	169
Table of Cases	177
Table of Legislation	179
Index	183